Spidergirl Un-masked!

Since one expensive sport isn't enough for a modern day princess, Rachel embarked on another this past summer. Our baby girl is now an accomplished young rock climber complete with her own fan club. She is on the competitive team, trains about five hours a week, and will be lead climb certified within weeks. You haven't lived until you see your only child cheerfully dangling from a rope 50 feet in the air. Perhaps it has something to do with how her parents met on a single rope bridge?

The Next Viagra Poster-Boy?

This summer VJ assumed the duties as Executive Officer of the 1st Cavalry Division's First Brigade. In October, the Army compounded its mistake and made him officially "old" by promoting him to lieutenant colonel. So no one could question his martial virility, VJ took time from his busy meeting and paperwork schedule to squeeze in 30 day plus deployments to both the Joint Readiness and National Training Centers this year. The last of these deployments began 8 November and ended 20 December, which explains why this is a "late" edition. While the media might now label him "specially trained" in desert and urban operations, we know better.

Armed & Dangerous Update

When not hanging by a thread from an indoor rock, Rachel continues to refine her Hapkido skills. By the time you read this she will be a brown belt. She is on track to earn her black belt this summer. Film available at:

Fear Makes Your Man Better

In a dramatic escalation of the domestic arms race, Lianne has taken up kickboxing. As a result she is now fully capable of running her husband down and then beating him senseless. With two lethal FemBots at home, VJ has been on his best behavior, making the bed, leaving the lid down, wiping the coffee grounds up, etc. He is also rumored to be in contact with Hans Blix negotiating for UN monitors.

Pet of Mass Destruction

Osama Bin Boo Boo escaped American justice this year and remains at large. She was recently spotted in Baghdad cozying up to her mentor. If VJ has to deploy to the Gulf this year, you, our readers, will know the real deal!

Looking Ahead

- Barring a unwanted return trip to the Gulf, we expect to move to Atlanta this summer. VJ will be a war planner with the Third Army (think Middle East.)
